The Color of God

by Melissa Martin

"Jill, what color is God? The kids at school say he's white." I take a few moments to think before I reply. "Maria, I believe that God is clear like water and just like the wind. When God looks at us, he doesn't see our skin color; God looks at our heart." Maria and I share a grin as we sing the next song together. . Read More
